New vs old apartments

In June 2025, the number of new apartments sold amounted to 680, marking a 10% annual increase. As for old apartments, the number of transactions reached 2,556, which represents positive 12% annual growth. The share of new apartments in total sales grew relative to several previous months' dynamics and stood at 21%.

The proportion of apartments with size between 50-75 sqm accounted for 44% of total sales, remaining as the largest category of sold properties. Whereas the flats above 125 sqm hold the smallest, 4%, share.

In June 2025, apartments priced above 900 $/sqm accounts for the noticeably larger share of total sales compared to the same period of the previous year. Whereas the share of flats priced below 900 $/sqm in total sales decreased by 14 percentage points annually. The high-priced apartments (>1500 $/sqm) represent 28% of total property sales, showing a 6 percentage point annual increase.

Tbilisi districts

In June 2025, Didi Dighomi and Saburtalo recorded the highest number of sales among Tbilisi districts. It seems that demand increased in Krtsanisi considerably, with sales more than doubling relative to June 2024. On the other hand, Didube showed significant year-over-year reduction in the number of properties sold.

In the same period, the average sale price per sqm was higher relative to June 2024 in the majority of districts. The highest average sale prices were recorded in Vake and Mtatsminda, both around $1900 per sqm.
